Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of CS Securities, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of CS Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of CS Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information included in pages 11 to 13 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

For the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003

1. Organization

CS Securities, Inc. ("CSS"), a California S-Corporation, was formed on January 18, 1996 to operate as a licensed broker-dealer pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act. CSS's purpose, as a licensed broker-dealer, is to act as a finder in connection with real estate holding companies' liquidation of real estate holdings. In addition, CSS may also structure and sell private offerings on a best efforts basis to institutional investors only.

CSS is exempt from special reserve requirements for brokers and dealers under Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This exemption is claimed under Section (k)(2)(i). CSS is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.

CSS is a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"). SIPC has suspended assessments based on net operating revenue at the time of this report. Therefore, a SIPC supplemental report is not included.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

Method of accounting

CSS prepares its financial statements on the accrual basis of accounting consistent with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. CSS's year end for tax and financial reporting purposes is December 31.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalent

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, CSS considers all investments that are purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Income taxes

CSS has elected to be taxed as an S corporation on its federal and California income tax returns. As an S corporation, CSS is generally not subject to federal income tax and is subject to California income tax at a reduced rate of 1.5%.

Concentration of credit risk

CSS places its temporary cash investments with high credit quality financial institutions. At times, the account balances may exceed the institution's federally insured limits. CSS has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

Revenue recognition

Consulting revenue is recognized at the completion of sales transactions or the trade date.

CS SECURITIES, INC.
For the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003

3. Net capital

CSS does not receive or hold customer securities or cash. As a result, the minimum net capital required by the Securities and Exchange Commission under Rule 15c3-1 is the greater of $5,000 or 6.67% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined. As of December 31, 2004 and 2003, CSS had net capital of $31,597 and $25,362, and required net capital of $5,000.

4. S-corporation status

CSS has elected under the Internal Revenue Code to be an S-corporation. An S-corporation does not pay federal income tax and pays state income tax at a rate of 1.5% with a minimum franchise tax of $800. In lieu of corporation income taxes, the shareholders of an S-corporation are taxed on their proportionate share of the corporation's taxable income. As of December 31, 2004 and 2003, CSS has one shareholder.

5. Related party transactions

William Chadwick is the 100% sole shareholder of CSS. Mr. Chadwick is also 100% sole shareholder of Chadwick & Company ("CC") and has a 41.25% interest in Chadwick Saylor & Co., Inc. ("CSC"). CC and CSC charge CSS for consulting fee expense. In 2004 and 2003, CSS paid $485,558 and $1,443,068 of consulting fee expense related to services provided by CC and CSC. As of December 31, 2004 and 2003, no consulting fee was outstanding for both years. Also, as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, $650 and $400, respectively, was payable for operating expenses. CSS engages CC and CSC as its primary provider of financial consulting and due diligence services.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control Required by SEC RULE 17a-5

To the Board of Directors of CS Securities, Inc.:

In planning and performing the audits of the financial statements of CS Securities, Inc. ("CSS") for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("the Commission"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by CSS that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g)-1 in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by CSS in (1) making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons; (2) the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; (3) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because CSS does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of CSS is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which CSS has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the structure, practices and procedures to future periods is subject to the risks that they might become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation might deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure that we consider to material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that CSS's practices and procedures were adequate as of December 31, 2004 and 2003 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Board of Directors, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealer, Inc. and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers. It is not intended to and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
